

Folklife

Bruce Baker Oct 2022 lyrics rev 5/23

This is Folklife, we are singing again
This Folklife, We're singing with Friends
This is Folklife, hear the clear harmonies
See the flowers bursting out from the bright green trees

Every Memorial Day we gather with friends
Singing songs and dancing with never an end
Smiles on our faces, music in the air
We share our tradition with nary a care

The nighttime rings out with music so fair
With harmonies rich in the crisp springtime air
Shanties and love songs, work songs and more
We gather together and share our lore

At the close of the weekend we all share a tear
And promise to meet the very next year
Joy on our faces, a song in our soul
We celebrate Folklife to make ourselves whole
